

The Insider

HOME-GROWN LUXURY

Kiwis who can afford the best hotel accommodation can get it right here at home. In an interview in Britain's Telegraph, hotel designer Jean-Michel Gathy — said to specialise in hotels that are “off the decadence Richter scale” — says New Zealand is one of his favourite places, and declares “Huka Lodge [right] is the best hotel in the world.”

